Director's Report

Thank goodness the price of gas has come down a bit because our busy summer continues with an extremely full September! I'm afraid by the time this is in your hands, our first event of the month will already be behind us. Many thanks to Ron Carpenter for putting together our annual swap meet in Vallejo that is scheduled for Sunday, September 11. I know many people will be attending and then perhaps continuing on to the Gatsby Picnic in Oakland.

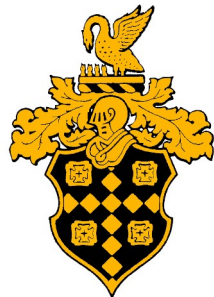

Later in the month we have Antique Autos in San Jose History Park, which is always great day—and please be aware it is on Saturday this year! Then, of course, September finishes with the Ironstone Concours d'Elegance, a show that is tirelessly organized by our own Chris Bock. I can't wait for another fun weekend in the Gold Country!

Be sure to note our October event in Redwood City with our friends from CCCA and other clubs! Another Saturday event!

Looking back, I really enjoyed attending the national meet in Virginia. I was not only pleased to see so many NorCal faces there, but I was also elated to finally be able to visit with friends from across the nation that I haven't seen since before COVID. I truly believe this club is primarily about making connections and friendships that last a lifetime, and secondarily about the cars. Next year it will be our turn to host these friends, and I know we are up to the task!

We also had a wonderful visit to Blackhawk thanks to event organizer Mike Hayward, and I had a great time running into people from many car clubs while traipsing around the Monterey Peninsula during Car Week.

Happy Motoring!

2022 PAC National Meet
Text & Photos by Clint Moore

A very diplomatic 1941 120 Rollson Formal Town Car graces the curb in front of our host hotel, The Westin Alexandria Old Town.

For the first time since 2019, The Packard Club held its national meet on July 4-9, and it was a resounding success! Our nation's capital was the backdrop for a convergence of nearly 200 Packard enthusiasts from across the United States. Northern Californians were in no short supply either, as we had 7 members who made the trek. Packards in attendance ranged from 1930—1958, many of which were local cars, but one 1956 Patrician came all the way from Palm Springs, CA (after its trip to Western Regions in May)!

Activities for the week included a Washington Nationals baseball game on the 4th of July, a visit to the Udvar-Hazy Air & Space Center, a scenic drive through the Virginia countryside, a (hasty) day at the Smithsonian and National Mall, and an incredible display of music and marching at Marine Barracks One, home of the US Marine Drum & Bugle Corps and the US Marine Band.

The threat of rain was ever present during the entire week, but rarely did we get caught in a deluge... until show day! At first it seemed the entire day would be rained out, but the drops were held at bay for at least the morning so that judging could be completed. After lunch, however the light drizzle began to turn heavier brining a hasty conclusion to the display of about 40 Packards. Of particular note were both a beautifully restored 1957 Packard Clipper sedan and an all original 1958 Packard Model L sedan. Both were a welcome site considering they are rarely seen at meets and often frowned upon for their heavy Studebaker influence.

The closing banquet was a wonderful evening with class and special awards presented and raffle prizes given away, including the grand prize: a custom Packard neon sign. Clint Moore and Christopher Slater gave a compelling presentation for next year's meet in Rohnert Park, declaring "California Calls" all members to attend!

We truly owe a debt of gratitude to our hosts from Packards Virginia for their Herculean efforts in putting together a meet where commitments couldn't be made with venues until the last minute due to COVID uncertainties!

And now, it's our turn to plan for next June!

A more beautiful day couldn't have been ordered for Saturday, July 30, when NorCal Packards and a few friends from the Classic Car Club of America created our own mini show with some maxi cars on the plaza in front of the Blackhawk Museum. The museum staff had graciously provided a shelter tent, tables and chairs for our group, and the day's tour leader Mike Hayward soon had a spread of gourmet donuts and coffee for everyone to enjoy. Maple bars with bacon bits, chocolate donuts with potato chips and white chocolate cakes with Oreo crumbles were the order of the day, much to the dismay of cardiologists far and wide!

Six Packards and a smattering of other Classics were arranged around the giant elephant to the delight of many families that visited the area, and the museum offered us a discount on admission for the day, so there was plenty to do. Your editor had every intention of visiting the museum, but got so caught up visiting with other club members, that he never made it inside!

Lunch brought many options for participants, including sit-down establishments and take-out. Burgers and sandwiches seemed to be the popular fare of the day, and certainly no one went home hungry!

Many thanks to Mike Hayward for arranging the day. We truly appreciate the efforts of this relatively new member who also has contributed articles to the Pious Pelican and other publications!

Out & About Monterey Car Week Text & Photos by Clint Moore

The First-in-Class winning 1938 1608 Twelve Rollston Town Car on the lawn at Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance

Another fantastic Monterey Car Week is behind us with many Nor Cal Packard members having made the pilgrimage to spectate at or participate in the myriad events of the annual celebration. Whether you're interested in sports, economy, luxury, classic or exotic, there is something for everyone on the famous peninsula just 100 miles south of San Francisco.

Of particular note, Milt Wheeler was spotted chatting with the owners of an MGA at the "Pacific Grove Little Car Show" on Wednesday. This is a show that features cars of all ages as long as their engine is no larger than 1601cc displacement (approx. 98 cubic inches!). Certainly no Packards were going to be found inside the show, but there was a 1941 Station Wagon on a nearby side street that was rumored to have been recently purchased from Brad Pitt! Thursday many of the Packards in the main event were spied leaving the polo grounds for the Pebble Beach Tour d'Elegance. What a treat to see the cars in motion as they glided by the thousands of admiring eyes. Thursday is also a great day to visit the auction previews, and both Gooding and Mecum did not disappoint in the Packard department, although most of the Packards that passed across the block did not meet their reserves, which is an unfortunate sign of the times that the current generation of car collectors are not as interested in Full Classics as we might wish. Friday, Clint Moore and family once again participated in the Pacific Grove Rotary Concours Auto Rallye by bringing the only Packard to what is an eclectic group of a couple hundred cars that comes together for a leisurely drive along the coast to Pebble Beach and back. This year Clint brought "Helen Twelvecylinders," the 1937 1508 Twelve Sedan. Riding along with the Moores was Jeff Mihaly, who enjoyed traveling in a '37 that didn't already belong to him! Saturday morning, the Concours d'LeMons celebrated the misfits and oddballs of the automotive world. Here were seen Jay Hubbard and Craig Williams of Silver Circle Packards. While their oddball from the National Automobile Museum, a 1925 Julian powered by a radial aircraft engine, had a space reserved on the lawn for Sunday, they certainly enjoyed the irreverent shenanigans that LeMons brings to the weekend.

All these activities led up to the main event on Sunday: The Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance. The most celebrated car show in the world, it attracts thousands of applicants hoping their rare and unique vehicles will be accepted for one of the 200 coveted positions on the lawn of the 18th fairway along Stillwater Cove. This year's Packard class was filled with beautiful and freshly restored low production and custom bodied cars of the Classic Era. First in Class was awarded to a 1938 1608 Twelve Rollston Town Car in a deep maroon. A graceful Graber-bodied Packard also won a special award of "Elegance in Motion." While none of our members were invited to show this year, several did turn out for the event like no other in the car world. Christopher Slater, Dana and Collette McManus, Jeff Mihaly, Orin and Ainsley Kerr, and Clint Moore were all spotted wandering the field. Once the Best in Show was awarded to a 1932 Duesenberg J Figoni Sports Torpedo, the crowd dispersed wondering what to expect next year. Will any of our NorCal members make the cut? Only time will tell...
